Northeast Ohio Logistics Network

an important resource for your business

What is the logistics network?

And why should supply chain management and business professionals be a part of it?

The Northeast Ohio Logistics Network is an association administered by NEOTEC that unites supply chain management and business professionals to provide one voice for the regional logistics industry. The network's objectives include monitoring logistics-related legislation, supporting initiatives to improve market access in Northeast Ohio, providing an educational forum about the importance of logistics to the regional economy, and assisting member companies with logistics needs.

Your participation in the Logistics Network is important to the success of these efforts. Through this collaboration, NEOTEC is better able to serve the logistics needs of your company and others throughout the Northeast Ohio region.
