Chile

- Ohio firms exported $161.6 million in products to Chile (44 percent increase over 2009).
- The United States—Chile Free Trade Agreement since January 1, 2004 (90 percent of United States products are duty-free).
- A dynamic, transparent, and low-risk business climate.
- Springboard to South American markets and Asia.
- Net creditor.

Colombia

- Ohio firms exported $121.8 million in products to Colombia (15 percent increase over 2009).
- 5 percent GDP growth annually.
- Third largest market for United States exports in Latin America.
- Industrialized, free market economy with diverse agricultural and natural resources, and a growing middle class.
- The United States—Colombia Trade Promotion Agreement was signed into law by President Obama on October 21, 2011. Once implemented, more than 80 percent of United States exports of consumer and industrial products to Colombia will become duty-free immediately, with remaining tariffs phased out over 10 years.

Growing Blue Industry

The Great Lakes region is North America's "water belt" with nearly 20 percent of the world's surface freshwater. As a result, and building on a history of water-intensive industry, the region is a hub for hundreds of small- and medium-sized water technology companies and institutions. To help promote these companies' products and services, the Council's trade mission to Brazil, Chile, and Colombia will feature special water-specific briefings and government and industry meetings. These special events are in addition to the rest of the mission program which is for all companies regardless of their particular industry sector.

The Ohio International Market Access Grant for Exporters (IMAGE): IMAGE is a program funded by the State of Ohio and the United States Small Business Administration as part of the National Export Initiative to double United States exports by 2015.
